

COULOUBAN

*“A breath born in the silence of the caves to illuminate the chaos of the world :
Coulouban, the accordionist who paints music and makes light sing.”*

The Translator of the Invisible

The Metamorphosis of Silence

Seven years ago, Lucien withdrew behind the rock. Deep within a cave, far from clocks and the clamour of the world, he began a conversation with silence. It was there, in that fertile twilight, that Coulouban was born. In seventy-two hours spent face-to-face with an accordion, he opened a breach : the time of learning was swept away by the necessity of breath. Since then, he has not played music; he lets it flow through him.

The Watercolour of Sounds

For Coulouban, the boundary between the arts does not exist. What he hears in the secret recesses of his mind is a vast orchestra, a mathematical symmetry he strives to capture. If he does not play it, he paints it. A painter of the soul, he transposes his visions onto watercolour paper, creating ‘cosmic icons’ in childlike, vibrant hues. His paintings are the companions of his melodies : they are the angels of his inner sky. His paintings are the faces of his melodies, his melodies are the colours of his poems.

An experience of clarity

Whether sitting on his stool or walking amongst the stars and his canvases, Coulouban transforms the atmosphere. His accordion is no longer a dance instrument, but a diffuser of frequencies, a weapon of gentleness against modern chaos. At his concerts, the space expands. The audience is invited to let themselves go and immerse themselves in a hypnotic state. It is a collective compilation in which sound illuminates the shadows...

The Call of the Sky

A nomad of the soul and the world, Coulouban is a traveller seeking the heights. He does not belong to the earth, but to the ‘places of the sky’, those spaces of total light where the horizon has no end. He offers not a show, but a respite. An invitation to rediscover, during a moment of listening, the depth and sacred mystery of our own existence.

The Experience of the Moment

‘Coulouban presents a hybrid and adaptable performance. Part acoustic concert, part travelling exhibition, the audience is invited to experience the music whilst sitting or lying down, surrounded by the cosmic icons painted by the artist. A journey for the senses, a respite for the soul.’

Join the frequency

Instagram : @coulouban369

Youtube : @coulouban369

E-mail : couloubanart@protonme.com

Technical specifications :

- Space : A MINIMUM area of 3m x 2m to allow plenty of room for the accordion and canvases.
- Lighting : Ideally, soft, subdued lighting (or natural light). Avoid harsh spotlights.
- Atmosphere : A quiet venue, free from background noise (coffee machines, cars), to facilitate a meditative state.
- Seating : A simple chair or a stool without armrests.
- Audience : Ideally, a space where the audience can listen whilst seated (or lying down).
- ‘Immersion’ setup : The option for the audience to sit on cushions or lie down on mats (if the venue allows).

‘A versatile, standalone performance that can be adapted to a variety of venues, including chapels, gardens, galleries, concert halls and open-air spaces...’